Missionaries to the Mexican People

"I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh, when no man can work." -John 9:4

April, 2010

Dear Friends,

Greetings once again from the US/Mexico border where it seems more and more of our national news is coming from. We are happy to report to you that we are safe, and that in reality our area has been relatively quiet from violence. We do so much appreciate your prayers for us.

We have had a very interesting Spring, as we have been continuing our John & Romans Project 2010. I am happy to report that we are making good headway on the project, and we are on pace to reach every house in our city within the year! It is obvious to us, however, that Satan has stepped up his attempts to discourage us since the beginning of the year. We have had many apparent setbacks in other areas of the ministry, and it seems our enemy is right there to discourage us from continuing on. We thank God that through your prayers and His working we will see the victory in every case.

The area in which Satan seems to have attacked us most is with our young Christians. Several of them are in a real battle with the things of this world, and it is hard for us to watch as we cannot make the decisions for them; it is their choice. I have asked you before to pray for them that they will choose the Lord's side, and I ask you to please continue to pray about this! I don't want you to think that we have not been blessed, however. I have had the privilege of preaching in two different prisons in Mexico in the last month, and have seen professions of faith in each case. Also, we have seen several visitors to our services, and this last Sunday a young man raised his hand for salvation during the invitation!

As summer approaches we are looking forward to a couple of annual events. My wife is making plans now for our third Mother/Daughter Luncheon, and she and the ladies are very excited about it. It is hard to believe, but summer camp is also right around the corner. It is the first year that our son, Daniel will get to go, and he could not be more ready. Please pray that God will use these things for His glory. Also, I mentioned in the last letter about a possible new facet of ministry here, and I ask you to continue to pray that God will open the necessary doors according to His will. Thank you.

We pray that God will richly bless each one of you. Thank you for your prayers and support. They make a real difference in the ministry here.

In Christ,
